

Koh Kong Khnong - Lost in the mangrove (FT-00, FT-11)

Another highlight of the area, Koh Kong Khnong is offered every other day, alternating with Tatai Waterfall on a regular basis. In addition, it can be organized as a private tour for 4 guests or more (subject to boat and guide availability).

How long: departure at 10am, 6-7 hours or as long as you are enjoying yourselves

You should bring: sun block, a hat or a cap, slippers and swimming costume, your camera

Includes: cruise aboard a local boat, your guide, lunch, mineral water

Limitations: the tour can be taken all-year-around except in very heavy rain

Prepare yourself for a full day of new experiences.

Leaving 4 Rivers around 10am, depending on the tide, you will cruise deep into the mangroves to experience a rare glimpse of life among the fishing communities that live off the natural bounty of this watery paradise.

Hornbills and king fisher might also be just flying over the trees and mangroves as you navigate.

Drinks will be served en route as you glide down the waterway to your fishing village destination where you will spend time with these shy but friendly people. While the men tend their boats, the womenfolk patiently mend their nets and children play tag and football in the narrow alleyways between the stilt houses.

BBQ lunch on the beach would be served after visiting the pagoda, school and a few villager's homes.

Back in the boat, you will experience the pure magic of life among the mangroves from our boat and the kayaks before heading back to 4 Rivers' comfort.
